This report lists every Burbank-area nonprofit organization with a current, active federal tax exemption and reported financial figures, ranked by gross annual receipts. Between them, these organizations report more than a billion dollars in combined assets — wealth already organized, already tax-exempt, and already positioned to serve this community directly. Burbank's nonprofit and faith communities are more than capable of meeting the needs of seniors, the needy, and the homeless without routing the money through another layer of city government first.
